

Why cook breakfast yourself?

Believe it or not, not everything has gone up in price. Upland Kiwanis Club is still charging the same for the annual pancake breakfast this year as the first year.

The fifth annual Kiwanis pancake feast is scheduled for 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 4 and 5, in Upland Memorial Park.

Included in the 75-cent price is all the pancakes a person can eat. Also on the menu are ham, and beverages.

Proceeds go to Kiwanis youth and community service funds. Tickets are available from any member of the club or at the breakfast.

UHS to have annual back-to-school night

On Tuesday, Nov. 7, the parents of Upland High students will have the opportunity to attend "Back-to-School-Night" and follow a shortened daily schedule of their own student.

According to Richard Jones, chairman for "Back-to-School-Night", the program will commence at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. Mrs. Briscoe Root, Highlanders' PTA president, will conduct a short business meeting and Thomas Glasheen, principal, will welcome the parents and teachers. The A Capella Choir, under the direction of Charles Whitham, will sing several selections.

During an extended first-period class, parents and teachers will be given an invitation to join the Highlanders' PTA by a member of one of the campus service clubs. As this is the only way the Highlanders' PTA has to raise money for the many annual events benefiting the students and teachers, your support will be appreciated.

The faculty will explain the aims and methods in each classroom. Student guides will be from Son-A-Shons and baby-sitting will be provided by the Future Homemakers of America in the Audio-Visual classroom.

Green-striped tails

Cable Commuter Airlines flying

Today, Cable Commuter Airlines, the Upland based line, officially started flying regularly scheduled passenger runs between Ontario International and Los Angeles International Airports.

Cable Commuter, the "bird with the green striped tail", also flies a route to Palmdale and Inyokern (China Lake).

Partners in the new airline, which will inaugurate service to San Bernardino later, are Bill Myers, president; and Roger Cable, vice president.

Thursday night a special flight to Los Angeles spotlighted Dewey Cable, the man who started Cable Airport and Roger's father, as copilot.

The senior Cable was honored at a dinner in a restaurant near LA International attended by Cable officials, personnel of other airlines, Cable employees and guests, among whom were Pierre Hjarberg, Jim Platt, Jack Hildebrand, Andy Fuller, Walt Orvis and Jim Bald. Stewardess on the flight was Barbara Butler of the Cable Ontario office.

That ticket office is on the main floor of the OIA terminal building. Facilities of the Trans - World Airline complex are used at LA International.

200 acres burn while winds hamper firefighters

Homes on the crest of Cucamonga's Red Hill District were threatened by wind-whipped fire which raged through the area for several hours Sunday evening.

Reporting the extent of the damage Monday morning, Arvid Lewis, Cucamonga District Fire Chief, said that immediate action by the combined efforts of the area fire forces were hampered at the onset of the blaze by sight-seers in cars and on-lookers on foot.

The fire, which was reported to the district at 8:30 p.m. on Sunday was well underway when equipment reached the scene.

Lewis said that the fire appeared to have been set deliberately and started in the area directly behind County Board of Supervisors, Daniel Mikesell's real estate office on Foothill Boulevard.

Through the co-operation of area departments of Cucamonga, Upland, Ontario and Alta Loma, the fire was contained with the loss of only one structure, a tool shed on the south side of Foothill Boulevard. The loss was estimated at $200. Some 200 acres of grass were burned.

"The wind was coming from the north and the flames raced through the grass westward. Then it jumped the road on Foothill near the overcrossing and we had problems," Chief Lewis said.

The tool shed was in a direct path of the fire when it jumped the road and Lewis dispatched a unit to the area. "It left only one small pumper and three firefighters at the crest of the hill on Country Club Drive," Lewis said. "Then the wind shifted to a northerly direction and for a while I thought I had lost my men," he said. "When the wind changed abruptly, we had to change our tactics and bring more units into the area," Lewis commented. "When I got to the crest of the hill where my men were, they were wetting down the roof of a home that was surrounded by flame. The pumper was in the path of the fire, but was not damaged," he said.

Residents on Red Hill turned on sprinkling systems and doused roofs with garden hoses to lessen the chance of blowing embers touching off their homes.

No injuries were reported, but Frank Lesinsky, manager of the Otis Elevator plant had his hair singed while trying to keep the flames from jumping across Country Club Drive.

About 30 firefighters from the combined departments battled successfully to keep the flames away from the Sycamore Inn.

The fire spread in a snake-like pattern, firemen said, as the winds continued to change directions. It burned as far east as Carnelian Street, near the Kapu Kai, but remained mostly to the west of the flood control channel.

Fences and sheds burned, but firefighters keep the blaze away from the 75 homes that were in the direct path of the fire.

Cucamonga firefighters remained on the scene Monday as winds up to 55 miles per hour re-ignited hotspots both in the foothills and across Foothill Boulevard as far south as Arrow Highway. Chief Lewis said that it took most of the day Monday to check the hot spots and extinguish embers in trees and on the ground in the fire area.

Lewis said that "everything clicked perfectly" between all of the units from

Sister City invitation mailed

LA INVITACION -- a Heroica Caborca, Sonora Mexico, to become Upland's Sister City, was mailed special delivery Monday by Mayor James Christensen, left, Town Affiliation Committee Chairman Zella Stone, and Chamber of Commerce representative, E. Harvey Stone, right.

Upland's invitation to Caborca, Sonora, Mexico, to become Upland's Sister City was mailed special delivery to the mayor of Caborca Monday.

El Presidente Municipal is more technically correct because that is the title of Dr. Carlos Velencia Ocana, to whom Upland's Mayor, James Christensen directed his letter of invitation.

The letter was written in Spanish by E. Harvey Stone, Chamber of Commerce representative on the Town Affiliation Chairman, Cosmopolitan Zella Stone, reported that her committee had recommended the invitation, and the Town Affiliation national organization had reported as far as was known, no American City had become a sister city to Caborca.

Mrs. Stone joined the mayor and the Chamber representative in giving the letter a ceremonial send-off befitting the occasion.

Along with the letter of invitation went a packet of information about Upland. In it were the Chamber's newest brochure, a map of the City, another map of Southern California showing Upland's location, and statistical data prepared by City Engineer Fred Blanchard, who is also the Rotary Club representative on the committee.

To show what Upland had been doing about selecting a sister city, the committee included in the packet clippings of news stories and pictures of the local committee and its activities, including the one from the Upland News that appeared with a map of northern Mexico showing Caborca's one-day-drive location in relation to Upland.

Purpose behind the Sister

City affiliation is pointed out in the letter, not the least of which is greater understanding, friendship, and cultural exchanges between the peoples of the two cities.

Members of the local committee have visited Caborca and submitted favorable reports on that city. Its proximity -- a day's drive -- plus the fact that it was not another "border town" helped in the selection.

Claremont has two sister cities, one in Mexico, and one in Africa. Montclair has Antigua, Guatemala, and the student exchange program between Montclair and Antigua brought Montclair national recognition with an award in Washington, D.C. Claremont previously had won the same award.

Following is the letter sent by Mayor Christensen.

The last line expresses the city's and committee's hope, stating "We are awaiting your reply, which we hope will be affirmative."

Dr. Carlos Velencia Ocana, Presidente Municipal Edificio Municipal
Calle Obregon y Avenida 6 de Abril
Caborca, Sonora, Mexico

Honorable señor Presidente,

Como Alcalde de la ciudad de Upland, California, estoy autorizado por el concilio municipal y los ciudadanos de Upland para extender a usted y a los ciudadanos de Heroica Caborca una cordial invitación a unirse con nosotros en una afiliación de ciudades o de "ciudades hermanas," como así se llama.

El propósito de este parentesco es aumentar el aprecio de los dos pueblos el uno por el otro y proveer un intercambio cultural, así fomentando comprensión y amistad entre nuestros pueblos. Tal vez empezaría en una escala pequeña con un intercambio de correspondencia entre estudiantes y otros, pero seguramente se engrandecería para incluir visitas oficiales, exhibiciones culturales y intercambio entre profesionales y comerciantes de ambas ciudades.

Como se ve por la lista adjunta, muchas ciudades de México ya están escogidas por ciudades en los Estados Unidos - especialmente del estado de California.

Nuestro comité ha estado considerando este proyecto desde noviembre pasado y los miembros del comité han pensado seriamente en la elección de Caborca como una posible ciudad hermana para Upland. Adjuntos encontrarán recortes y otras informaciones acerca de nuestra ciudad.

Esperamos ansiosamente su respuesta deseando que ésta sea afirmativa.

Atentamente,
James L. Christensen
Mayor of the City of Upland, California formal march music, while marching. In the even half-time show competition, Upland won another first place in the blue ribbon class. Other pictures appear on page 10.

State Senator, William E. Coombs of the 20th district was the guest speaker, Thursday, Oct. 26, when the San Bernardino District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs held a fall meeting at Wrightwood.

Women go to seminar

Four women from the Cucamonga Alta Loma Woman's Club attended the California Federation of Women's Clubs Membership Group D Seminar, held at the Woman's Club of San Bernardino.

Attending were: Mrs. Herbert Minor, President, Mrs. Maud Bonillas, District Garden Chairman; Mrs. Arvid Lewis, Dean of Chairman and Mrs. William Yeager.

Sen. Coombs discussed CFWC endorsed bills and gave reports to the women on the progress of these bills. He disclosed to the federation members his disapproval of re-apportionment based on the 1960 census, saying, "The shifts in population in California since the last census would make re-apportionment based on a 1960 census distorted and unfair."

Sen. Coombs also informed the women as to the progress of the Status of Women Bill; the Family Bill; and the Miller Bill.

Members of the Upland Woman's Club attending were Mrs. Lawrence Banta, president, accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Dennis, Mrs. Neal Van Dorin, Mrs. C. E. Reimers, Miss Mildred Briggs, and Mrs. Clyde MacKall, district president.

Women to present Mrs. Achterkirchen

Mrs. Karl Achterkirchen, for the past 20 years a leader of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Los Angeles, will be guest speaker at the Fall meeting of the Women of St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

The first of the two yearly meetings of all women of St. Mark's is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. Arnold Wright, president of the Women of St. Mark's said, "Mrs. Achterkirchen is one of the most dynamic women of the Diocese. All women who are members of St. Mark's Episcopal Church -- whether or not they belong to a Guild -- and their friends are invited to attend."

ANNIVERSARY COUPLE -- Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Scruggs proudly display one of the many lovely warm quilts they are completing for donation to the missions. The Scruggs recently celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary in their home on South First Ave., Upland, where they have lived for the past 35 years.

Couple celebrates 57th anniversary

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Scruggs of 370 S. 1st Ave., celebrated that lovely day 57 years ago, when they became man and wife in a brush arbor in Bunker Hill, Ark. Oct. 9, 1910 was the exact date of the couple's vows.

Now many years and five children later, they are still devoted, industrious, happy active members of the community.

Both southerners, Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs met at an evangelist meeting in Russellville, Ark. This meeting led to courtship and eventually marriage closely bound by deep faith in God.

Five children, three of whom died in infancy or early childhood were born to the couple. A son, Ralph Manuel Scruggs died a few years ago, and left his widow and five children now living in Walnut. Another son, William Luke Scruggs is presently living in China.

The Scruggs are the proud grandparents of seven grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Residents of Upland for the past 47 years, they have lived in the same neat little home for the past 35 years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs worked for years packing oranges for local citrus growers. They both said,

"We would still like to work, but they made us retire." He is 88 years old and she is 78 years young.

Mrs. Scruggs keeps her own home and finds plenty of time to be a very active member of the Woman's Society at her church. "Dad," as she calls him, keeps very busy in the yard and frequently takes walks for exercise.

They both work together making quilts for the missions. She does all the sewing and he helps her tie the finishing knots. Mrs. Scruggs has lost count of just how many of these lovely warm quilts she has completed over the years.

The couple agrees, "Plenty of hard work, faith in God and the goodness in your heart" are the factors which have made their 57 years together fly by. Both agile and alert, Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs look forward to many more happy productive years together.

Dinner called success by local Woman's Club

Cucamonga Alta Loma Woman's Club held a Tamale Pie dinner at Sweeten Hall recently.

This was the club's first Ways and Means project this year, and was a huge success; due especially to Ways and Means chairman Mrs. Arthur Edelman and her working committee.

Ticket chairman Mrs. Wm. Scott reported about 100 tickets sold. Mrs. George Pagluiso gathered some lovely door prizes and had Mr. Victor Cherbak, Jr. help her with drawing tickets and giving out prizes to the lucky winners.

Mrs. Michael O'Flaherty and Mrs. Floyd Sebering made newly redecorated Sweeten Hall, more lovely with their special talents. As kitchen help, Mrs. Sebastian Filpi, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Miss Clara Young and Mrs. T. E. Walker were really on the ball.

Guests were greeted at the door by club president Mrs. Herbert Minor, Mrs. Henry Van Dyke, and Mrs. Arthur Allen. Food and prizes donated by members. After the delicious dinner, guests were invited to play cards.

Dear friends,

It is a tribute to the public confidence in funeral directors that over 50% of funerals conducted in this country come from families previously served by that funeral director.

Another large percentage come to a funeral director by recommendation from someone he has previously served. Such public confidence is our greatest satisfaction.

Young men on mission to Spanish speaking CASE will entertain teachers Thursday

Mormon missionaries are not an uncommon sight at any given point in these United States, but two young men tilling in the Missionfield in this area have a more uncommon mission -- Spanish speaking residents of this valley.

Elders Scott B. Shumway and David Charles Hubbard of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (LDS) are working in the Pomona Valley, contacting those who speak Spanish, under the direction of the West Spanish American Mission, which has headquarters in Los Angeles. Their local address is 11119 Roswell in the South Montclair area (mail address: Pomona, phone 628-8032).

They opened the territory in September after no one had been working on a Spanish speaking mission in the area for some time.

They conduct a Spanish speaking class in the Stake House in Upland, and hope to build Spanish speaking nucleus into a "branch" which is a smaller unit than a ward, the usual local organization. They say that creation of a branch would permit them to offer more services to those in their class.

That class is one of their activities. Much of their work consists of making contact by knocking on doors, plus getting referrals from friends or relatives of church members.

They both speak Spanish, of course, and report that it is getting almost as easy to speak and understand as their native English.

Both have had three months language training at Brigham Young University in Utah. Elder Shumway, who was 20 Oct. 28, has been in the mission field nine months, previously in Tucson, Ariz., and Los Angeles.

His junior companion, also 20, has been in the field one month.

The team says that they have found the Spanish speaking people of the area quite receptive and friendly. They carry with them both Bible and Book of Mormon, and other materials in Spanish. Their approach is the same as other LDS missionaries, that of asking those contacted to listen and reason, to pray for the truth.

Elder Shumway is from Idaho Falls, Idaho, area, and his companion hales from Park Ridge, Ill. They travel about the Pomona Valley in a car rented from the Church.

They also rent an apartment, do their own cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, all of which, they point out, makes them appreciate their distant homes as well as gifts and dinner invitations from others.

They spend about 70 hours a week proselyting, and also spend time studying theology and Spanish.

They get no pay for their 27 months of training and missionary work; support themselves and/or are supported by their families.

"The happiness, the joy we see in a person's eyes" when they accept the LDS religion is the "pay we receive," the young missionaries say.

The third annual appreciation dinner for the teachers of special education classes in the West End will be held Thursday, Nov. 2, at 6:30 p.m. in the Upland High School cafeteria, sponsored by the Committee for Advancement of Special Education. Organ music will be played throughout the dinner by Miss Marion Campbell.

Keith Larick, Ontario-Montclair school district consultant; Don Shattuck, psychologist from Upland School District; Dr. Wayne Rubel, director of special education in the Fontana School District; Leon Brown, coordinator of the work experience program in Chaffey High School; and Mrs. Iva Kelley, teacher of special education at Chaffey High School will each give a short resume' of their work in the field of special education.

Mrs. Dorothy Mizysak, teacher of special education in Fontana will be the speaker of the evening.

She will discuss the Marion Frostig's visual program.

CASE was formed two years ago by a group of parents and teachers who felt the need for a more complete program of development for their children.

They have been working toward the establishment of vocational training in high school and establishing work shops such as the CASE Thrift store in Pomona, and on-the-job training from employers.

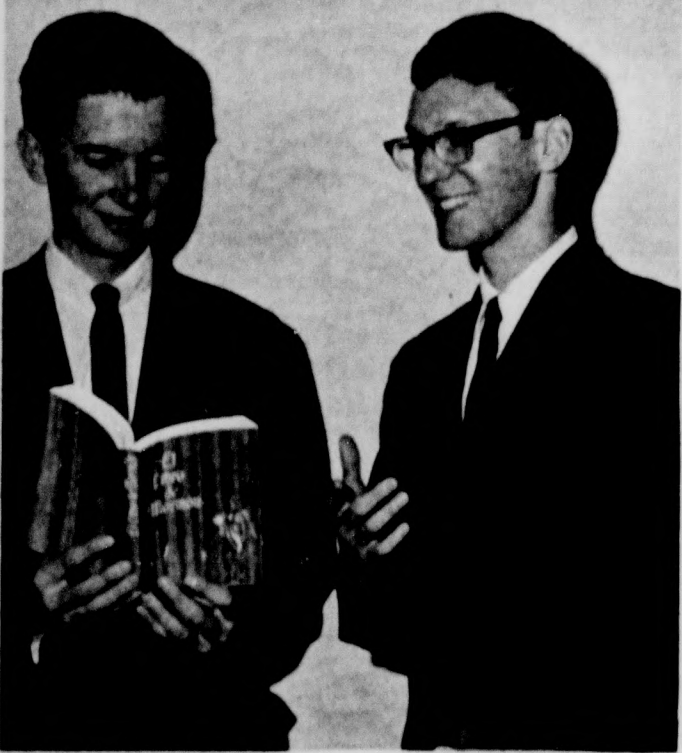

Many social activities have been planned and the response has been gratifying. Skating parties are planned twice a month at the Holiday Roller Rink, a bowling league every Saturday morning at the Thunderbird Lanes is also sponsored by CASE.

Each Christmas season

the young people are invited to a dinner-party and in June a graduation dinner-swim-dance is held for the older group of students and former graduates.

Membership in CASE is $1 a year and meetings are held in Chaffey High School District board room, 211 W. 5th St., Ontario, at 7:30 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month.

Further information on the annual dinner or membership may be obtained by calling Mrs. Miller at 982-2158 or Mrs. Eberhardt at 984-1597.

OFTEN SEEN about the Pomona Valley are these two young men on a mission, for the Mormon Church, but one with a slight difference--a mission to those who speak Spanish. On left is Elder Scott Shumway, and on right, Elder David Hubbard.

Fighter group 'comes of age'

The 163rd Fighter Group, California Air National Guard, stationed at Ontario International Airport will "come of age" in November when its parent unit, the 196th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, celebrates its 21st anniversary.

The public is invited to tour the base in an open house Sunday, Nov. 12, to help celebrate.

A regular weekend drill for members of the unit will also be held that day.

The base at OIA will be open to visitors at 10 a.m. and remain open until 3 p.m. All sections will be open and fully operational.

Many displays and events have been scheduled.

Air National Guard aircraft from around the country as well as the 163rd's F-102 "Delta Dagger" will be on display. F102A aircraft from the 196th Fighter Interceptor Squadron will participate in various air activities beginning at 1 p.m. This will include tactical flying demonstrations, formation take-off and landings, and low level approaches.

The aircraft from other guard units will provide more flying activity when they depart the base at 2 p.m. The Air Museum, located at Ontario International Airport, will display aircraft once flown by the 163rd.

A crash-fire demonstration will be given as the 163rd's firefight unit douses a flaming airplane. The demonstration is set for 11 a.m.

An F-102A will be on display for close examination in an area outside the hangar -- completed armed with rockets and missiles. An F102A and a trainer F102A will be on display in the hangar with support equipment.

Miss Ontario International Airport and her court will add a non-military tone to the occasion and a special base newspaper will be given to visitors to direct them to the different areas and events on the base.

Music will be provided throughout the day by the 561st Air Force Band from Hayward Air National Guard base. The band has played at the State Fair in Sacramento 18 straight years and represented the Air National Guard at the inauguration of former President Dwight Eisenhower in 1952.

Concession stands will be opened to serve the crowds. Hot dogs and soft drinks will be dispensed and the base snack bar will also be open.

SYMBOLIC -- A/2C Fred Rogers is one of the men who guard the planes that guard our country. Plane shown is 163rd Fighter Group, California Air National Guard, F-102. The unit will hold a 21st anniversary open house Nov. 12 for closer viewing of the aircraft and tours of the base at Ontario International Airport.

Mrs. Wood, personal development chairman, in charge of the Nov. 9 dinner meeting of the club, announced that Dr. Roy Trotter, of San Clemente, will present a program entitled "Physical Fitness in Six Minutes Per Day". A special musical program is also being arranged for this program.

President Mrs. Robert Conway reminded the Board members that their progress reports are due before the end of November to enable her to meet the December first deadline for her report to district.

Mrs. Wood served refreshment at the conclusion of the business meeting and a social time followed. Those present included: Mrs. Grace Richards, Mrs. Thrasher, Mrs. Earl Riggs, Mrs. Rutie Rowland, Mrs. Zella H. DRILL TEAM marches smartly in their tartans, with Upland High Band in lead.

Fire

Upland fire chief, Leon Lamphear was in charge of the units on the south side of Foothill Boulevard, while Chief Gene Billings of the Alta Loma Department directed operations from the Country Club area.

Chief Lewis directed the entire operation with assistance from the two chiefs who were in the major trouble areas.

"Through the united cooperation of all emergency and official units of the fire departments and the sheriff's and Highway Patrol Departments, we were able to avert what could have been a big disaster," Lewis said. "We were very fortunate."

Police arrested one sight-seer on Foothill Boulevard who continually disobeyed firemen's requests to stop running his car over hose lines.

Eight men seeking positions as local CCWD directors

Three seats on the Cucamonga County Water District Board of Directors will be filled in a general district election to be held on Tuesday, November 7.

Eight local residents have joined the race for the 3 seats which are opened as a result of expired terms.

The four year terms of Galer Royer, Harold Blatz and Eugene Billings have expired. All of the incumbents are seeking re-election.

The other men who have entered the race include Bill Reckert, Louis Myskow, Kenneth Shively, Lloyd Michael and Rudy Brumund.

A businessman from Cucamonga, Bill Reckert has served on the board for the Cucamonga District Chamber of Commerce as well as other public positions.

Of the election Reckert says, "The water district is one of our area's biggest businesses. Its actions on water and sewer improvements will do more than any other organization towards our area's future expansion and economic development.

The directors must be capable of managing this business on a sound economic basis to insure the maximum development of the area's potential growth.

An area businessman, by the very nature of his position in the community, is best equipped to initiate and manage these developments to protect the property investments of the area's residents."

Rudy Brumund Born and raised in the Cucamonga and Alta Loma areas, Rudy Brumund has been ranching all of his life. He is a member of the Cucamonga Service Club.

Brumund comments on the election by saying, "I believe in the protection and conservation of our high quality water for use in the existing district area. I maintain an interest in service and the betterment of the community as a whole."

Louis Myskow A resident of the area since 1950, Louis Myskow has served on the local fire board for the past 10 years. He is also a member of the Cucamonga Service Club and has served as an officer on their board.

In discussing the election

Myskow said, "I believe in community service and the betterment of the area."

Kenneth Shively

An area resident since 1944, Kenneth Shively is a citrus grower. He has served on boards for the Foothill Irrigation District and the Upland Water Company.

He is a director of the La Verne Co-Operative Citrus Association and has been a member of the Farm Bureau for the past 35 years.

Of the election, Shively says, "I have always been interested in water conservation since I first served as chairman for the Chino Farm Center in 1933. My primary concern is tax reform and reduction."

Harold Blatz

Harold Blatz is an incumbent for the position on the board which he seeks. He says, "Water of high quality is necessary to maintain the health and economy of our community. We have a limited supply of local potable water to take care of our present needs and we must use every effort to protect and conserve this limited supply of water and keep it within our original district boundaries.

As a director of your Cucamonga County Water District, I have insisted our local water supply be carefully used and protected for our users.

I support and encourage an active program for immediate property tax reduction which is needed in our community."

Eugene Billings

A life long resident of Alta Loma, Eugene Billings is the incumbent president of the water district board. He has served the community in several capacities ranging from Alta Loma Fire Chief to community leader in his local church.

Of the election, Billings says, "What I have always felt, having been raised here, and having worked in public service, is that anytime the people of the area think I can best serve them, in a fair and equal manner, I will, to the best of my ability try to carry this out.

Since water is a very important item to this area, the district is something that needs people with knowledge and concern for the people of the area.

Galer Royer

Having served with the local water district for the past 3 terms, Galer Royer is seeking reelection to his position on the board.

He was a senior engineer for the Southern California Edison Company for 12 years, Senior engineer for Metropolitan Water District for 10 years and resident engineer for the City of Pasadena for 4 years.

Of the election, Royer says, "I think we have developed a fine water system and I'm very proud of it. I'd like to maintain and preserve our good water and at the same time keep our domestic water rates and taxes down. With good management, we have managed to maintain and conserve the water in our own basin."

Lloyd Michael

"I decided to place my name on the ballot for a position on the Board of Directors of the Cucamonga Water District after very serious thought and the urging of fellow citizens in this community.

I feel my past experience can be an asset to this area as a representative on the Board. I have been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Alta Loma Elementary School District for the past six years. As president of that Board I felt that my interest in how the taxpayer's dollar is being spent is a matter of record. I have been a property owner and resident of this community for over twenty years. I am self-employed as a citrus grower and an owner of a water well on our property. These factors increase my interest in the protection of water in this district.

I have been a general contractor and also a building materials dealer in the past. This knowledge makes me aware of the development of new industry and residences that we anticipate in this area.

There is pending litigation against our Water District at the present time and I feel this might have been avoided with the proper negotiations before the decisions were made that caused the situation.

In 1962 there were 2717 commercial and residential customers using the District water, today, five years later there are 4,009 users.

This reflects almost a 50% increase in water users in this district. With this growth, sound management and decisions become ever more important to keep the taxpayers interest in mind.

If elected I will serve on this Board with open mind and dedication, realizing that I am a representative of the taxpayers of this community."

Medical authorities advise Flu virus shots

Although a major epidemic of influenza is not expected this year, persons in high risk groups were recently advised by Dr. Alvin Z. Tucker, president of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Bernardino County to get protective shots, as soon as possible.

He cited those over 45 years of age, especially those over 65, persons suffering from chronic illnesses and patients in nursing homes and chronic disease hospitals as most likely victims of the A-2 strain of flu that will be active this year.

Dr. Tucker said those suffering from TB, other lung diseases, heart disease or diabetes are especially susceptible.

Pregnant women, too, are advised to seek one of the two protective vaccines available against this flu virus.

It is recommended that immunization begin as soon as practicable after October 1, he said.

More information about flu, its treatment and prevention may be found in a Christmas Seal-supported pamphlet "Influenza: The Facts" available free from the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Bernardino County, 371 W. 14th Street, San Bernardino, Dr. Tucker said.

Pamphlets on tuberculosis, emphysema, bronchitis and other respiratory diseases also are available, he said.

ANTIOCH, ILL., NEWS: "If you're one of those who long for those early days when life was 'simple', better take another look. The pages of those early papers are dotted with stories of the untimely deaths of children and adults from diphtheria, smallpox, scarlet fever, hydrophobia and lockjaw. Diphtheria, in particular, wiped out whole families. And the stories of one family losing two or more children to any one of the dread diseases that are now wiped out by inoculation were numerous. Life couldn't have been too simple when people were helpless before the threat of almost every disease and ailment that human flesh is heir to."

Mental Hygiene Association presents outstanding 'Family Health Lectures'

Dr. Walter Kempler, the Los Angeles psychiatrist who inaugurated the gripping TV Program, "Therapy," will launch the West End Mental Hygiene Association's four-part lecture series, "The Family -- Making It Tick."

Founder and current director of the Kempler Institute for psychotherapy within families, Dr. Kempler will work on stage at Vina Danks Junior High School auditorium, 318 West "J" Street in Ontario, with an actual family. The objective is to help the family members better adjust to each other.

Dr. Kempler's demonstration of therapy in action will take place at the school at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 6. A donation of 50¢ will be accepted.

Dr. Kempler stresses that his demonstration is not meant to help only family members with serious problems, but also to help average families find more happiness and adjustment.

Dr. Kempler, a prominent psychiatrist, has presented his views on family therapy to mental health facilities throughout the community and to professional organizations both locally and nationally. His findings have been published in many professional magazines and his book, "Experiential Psychotherapy Within Fam-lies," is slated for publication soon.

The lecture series, which fulfills the West End Mental Hygiene Association's purpose of sponsoring educational programs on mental health, lists three other demonstrations.

Dr. Calvin Frederick, psychologist, will discuss the "special" child in each family, that is the one with special abilities or disabilities, on Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Sociologist Dr. Nicos Mouratides will speak on the roles of various family members on Monday, Jan. 8; and Drs. Nah and Anna Brind will demonstrate the techniques of psycho-drama on Monday, Feb. 5.

All lectures in this series on the family will be held at Vina Danks Junior High School Auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m. All members of families are cordially invited to attend.

Freeways funded

California Highway Commission has split up more than $1 billion for fiscal 1968-69, including funds for some of the freeways in this area.

Funds were budgeted for some part of nearly every freeway in Southern California.

San Bernardino Freeway was put on the list for an estimated $3.5 million to widen it from six to eight lanes between the Los Angeles County line and a point .2 of a mile east of Euclid Ave., a distance of 3.8 miles.

Included in that job supposedly is the addition of on and off ramps on the west side of Monte Vista Ave. to serve traffic to and from the west of Montclair Plaza regional shopping center.

Foothill Freeway will get some attention to the west of this area, but the most easterly point mentioned is La Verne.

Other work will be done to the west of that. Money for most of the work west of Lone Hill Ave. in San Dimas comes mainly from Federal funds, because Foothill Freeway is an Interstate route west of there, and State Route 30 east of that point, hence gets little money.

Riverside Freeway in the Riverside-Anaheim areas, the Freeways out in the desert and Pomona Freeway also came in for a share of the money.

Pomona Freeway is being pushed because of the coming expansion of Ontario International Airport to major status now that it is part of the Los Angeles airport system (as of today, Nov. 1).

It was recently reported that Pomona Freeway will soon be open to Brea Ave. from the west, should extend to the San Bernardino County Line by 1970 and shortly after to Riverside.

Garrick to stage 'Night Must Fall'

"Night Must Fall", a mystery in three acts, will be presented by Garrick Players, at the Castle, corner of "C" and Lemon, Ontario, Nov. 9, 10, 11 and 16, 17, 18, Curtain 8:15 p.m.

Bill James of Ontario, portrays the leading role of Dan in the drama, his first appearance since "Light Up The Sky". Maxine Coats Lentz will play the critical Mrs. Bramson. Cleo Bell Heiple takes the role of Olivia Grayne. Making their debut are Garth Elwood as the pompous Hubert Laurie; Vickie Meyers as Mrs. Terrance, the fearless cockney cook; Deborah Brooks, the stupid maid; Dora; Claylene Deakin as Nurse Libby, and Martin Algar as the Inspector Belsize. The play takes place around the early 1930's in Essex, England. The fast moving mystery is directed by Clark Marshall and produced by Sandi McKenzie. Tickets are on sale at Butler Bros. Department Store or at the door. For reservations, call 624-1081 or 987-1095.

Noise rapped

New traffic laws going into effect

The matter of just how much vehicle noise on California's highways is too much noise has become a part of California law, specifically, Section 23130 of the California Vehicle Code.

The new law, effective on Nov. 8, is an addition to existing law which empowers enforcement officers to make arrests, if, in their judgment, they hear a motor vehicle produce unusual or excessive exhaust noise.

Using decibels as units of measurement, the new law sets maximum limits of noise at which vehicle types may operate in posted highway speed zones either below or above 35 miles per hour. Noise from moving trucks, cars, and motorcycles will be measured by instruments set up at roadside.

Regulations setting forth the actual procedures for measuring and the instruments to be used will be established by the California Highway Patrol.

Standards set are not expected to affect the vast majority of motorists who operate their vehicles with standard equipment.

Of interest to a large number of drivers is a vehicle code amendment which requires all vehicles other than motorcycles registered in California to have two rear view mirrors, one of which must be on the left-hand side.

Still another amendment adds the requirements for both left- and right-hand mirrors on a motor vehicle that is constructed so the driver is without a view straight back from the interior of the vehicle, or on a truck that is loaded so that the view straight to the rear is obstructed. The amendments become effective Jan. 1, 1968.

Other amendments of direct interest to the motorist include public change the vehicle registration display section, the accident reporting section, the speed limit for cars towing trailers and for trucks, and sections on vehicle equipment relating to tires and seat belts.

A California vehicle registration card no longer has to be on prominent display within the vehicle, but the change specifies it must be with the vehicle and displayed upon demand by a peace officer.

In another change the driver of a car involved in an accident now will report the accident to the Department of Motor Vehicles when damages amount to $200 rather than $100.

The maximum speed limit for 3-axle trucks, school buses, farm labor buses and cars towing trailers has been increased from 50 to 55 miles per hour.

Motorists in the snow country who wish to, now will be able to use metal studded tires between Oct. 1 and May 1, at least until the amendment is reviewed by the Legislature in 1969.

However, studded tires may not be used in lieu of tire chains when chains are required; and motorists with front wheel drive will now be able to put chains on those wheels legally when they go to the snow. The law has been amended to specify that chains must be put on "drive wheels". All campers manufactured after Jan. 1, 1968, used on vehicles registered in California, must be equipped with safety glazing material on outside windows and doors. The new provision becomes effective Jan. 1.

And, car dealers are now prohibited from selling any used car, 1962 model or newer, that is not equipped with at least two approved seat belts.

Bank pays 695 Yule fund

Nearly $84 million in Bank of America Christmas Club checks -- including funds for 695 local residents -- will help bulge the Yule stockings of Californians with gifts this year.

In making the announcement today, Charles Walker, manager of the Upland branch said the local savers will be presenting themselves with a $141,000 gift.

He added that the money will be distributed in November in plenty of time for the holiday shopping season. The $83.9 million in the thrift program's 44th year of operation surpasses the record high of 1966 by $2.2 million. This year's Christmas Club checks will average $200.68, up from last year's $189.15.

All told, 200,000 Northern Californians tucked away $41.3 million in the holiday accounts with Bank of America, while Southern Californians accumulated $42.6 million in 218,000 accounts.

Most of this money will wind up under the Christmas tree Dec. 25, although some of the money will be used for winter vacations or paying such year-end expenses as taxes and insurance premiums.

Students float in money

During the week of Oct. 9-13, the annual United Fund Drive was held on the Upland High School campus.

A total of $457.64 was raised by the students to be contributed to the West End United Fund.

The leading class was the juniors who gave $168.58, followed by the seniors, $122.40; freshman, $86.71 and sophomores $73.74.

The leading homerooms were Mrs. Batchelor's $35, followed by Miss Holt's $33.

This year's campaign committee consisted of Richard Burnwell, chairman, assisted by Dan Robinson, Larry Parker and Larry Wolff.

A cowboy and Indian theme, originated by Parker and Wolff was successful in building up class competition, as was a special ceremony held during each day of the drive, in which the president of the class that led in contributing for that day was drenched with a bucket of water.

The drive was kicked off Monday, Oct. 9, when Mrs. Mary Boyd, executive secretary of the Ontario-Pomona Association for the Mentally Retarded, spoke to a meeting of room representatives. Much credit for the successful drive goes to Mr. Ed Kennedy, director of activities of the school, who was the faculty advisor.

There are plans for a JUDO class which should get underway shortly.

For the lady who wants to retain her girlish figure, there are slimnastics classes on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 8 to 9:30 p.m., and Thursday morning we have a class from 10 to 11:30 a.m. These classes are under the leadership of Mary Killinger and Bernice Wholf.

There is a special program for men, which includes a special conditioning class geared to help men get in shape and keep themselves physically fit. Easter Seals send crippled children to summer camp

Through the cooperative efforts of the Crippled Children's Society, the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the United Cerebral Palsy Association of San Bernardino County, three muscular dystrophy and six cerebral palsy patients were able to attend Camp Palvika in the San Bernardino mountains.

The camp, located above Crestline, is sponsored by the Crippled Children's Society and is designed for the use of physically handicapped children.

Forth-seven children and young adults attended camp this past summer due to the assistance of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Zeta Mu Sorority, Kiwanis Club of Fontana, Los Angeles Times Camp fund, Rotary Club of San Bernardino, and gifts from concerned individuals and parents of the children who could help.

The total cost of the camping program was more than the gifts designated camp amounted to, and the difference was made up by the Society from money received during the annual Easter Seal campaign.

Library celebrating children's book week

The Children's Room of the Upland Public Library is celebrating National Children's Book Week through Nov. 4.

Book Week was started in 1919 by two men, Frederick G. Melcher and Franklin K. Mathews, to stimulate children's reading. From one children's editor and 500 new books in 1919, to 60-70 children's editors and over 1600 new books published in the past year, makes an interesting story of the growth of children's literature. However, since budgets are limited, librarians must sift through all the new books and choose only those which are worth-while.

Among new books to be displayed and circulated during Book Week are the following:

Saleh's "Even Tiny Ants Must Sleep", a picture book parents will appreciate at bed-time. In rhyme that is gentle and lulling your boy or girl is lured to sleep as he learns how all creatures, great and small, settle down to sleep.

Bradfield's "A Good Knight for Dragons" is a Literary Guild selection for the younger set, telling in humorous fashion how the dragon is vanquished and Cedric becomes a "good" knight.

"Ellen Grae" (by Vera and Bill Cleaver) is about an exciting, if sometimes baffling, girl who tells weird stories about people. She shares a terrible secret with Ira, and even the end of the story does not solve or clarify it.

Devlin Bates, ten years old, in "The Hidden Year of Devlin Bates" by Lois Muehl, is an individualist. He rebels against being pushed to conform and adjust to the group, and other boys resent his lack of interest in their activities. Pre-teen readers will find many truths from their own experiences in this realistic, sensitively-written story.

For mystery fans there is Garfield's "Devil in the Fog", a good mystery that takes place in eighteenth century England.

For young people who enjoyed Forman's "Ring the Judo Bell" there is the same author's "Horses of Anger". In it, Hans, and his four friends, live out the six years of W.W. II in the German army. How they are changed by their experiences makes a good war story. Hans grows to the point where he can accept, and even welcome, the German defeat as the end of a nightmare and the hope of a new life.

Andre Norton has written another of her spell-binding books, "Octagon Magic", a blend of fantasy and realism, with warmly-drawn characterizations.

"Sky Diver" by Zachary will particularly interest the older boy who is interested in sky-diving, though this book goes further than the sport in telling the story of a modern Indian in the swamps of Florida.

Older girls who like true stories will enjoy Butler's "Twice Queen of France: Anne of Brittany". The author provides an authentic and richly detailed background for the story of the life of one of the most fascinating women in history.

For girls who like to read about modern, everyday girls with problems similar to their own there is Robinson Barnwell's "Shadow on the Water".

These books are just a few of the many that we are displaying for Book Week. Visit YOUR library this week and look for the sign "New Books -- to Read and Enjoy."

Telephone Curtain parts

Free calling areas extended

General Telephone Company announced that plans are underway to implement the Public Utilities Commission's decision to allow General to offer extended free calling areas to Etiwanda, Cucamonga, Upland, Montclair, Chino, and the Pomona areas.

A General Telephone announcement said, "We will have the opportunity to offer extended area calling between the Ontario-Pomona areas and the Covina based exchange. There is no doubt that this decision by the Public Utilities Commission is truly in the public interest."

The new service, originally requested by General Telephone for its customers, will be established before Jan. 2, 1970. There are many studies to be made before extended calling areas can be established. First, we must determine the amount of calls which will be made between any one given community and the other 16 communities affected.

These studies must be made so that General Telephone can establish the size of cables between the communities and order the hundreds of thousands of dollars of equipment necessary to take care of the additional calling expected.

"After these studies are completed, we may have to expand certain dial equipment offices through building additions. This will be necessary to accommodate the special electro-mechanical equipment necessary to provide an adequate level of service between these communities.

"Next, we will prepare to install the new equipment, and construct additional cable lines between the offices to handle the increased calling rate. Special billing equipment must be installed in the offices to adjust the customer's bill for the extended area calls. "In all, this is a mammoth task which will take many months of concentrated effort by every department in the company. However, we are not unexperienced with the complicated procedures involved in the studies, buildings and equipment.

"Los Angeles has had extended calling between certain communities for many years and we participated in the construction of these facilities when they were established."

In the announcement, General Telephone said that the Public Utilities Commission had authorized the company to increase the basic rates of telephone service to offset severe losses by the utility. The rates will not be increased until the extended free calling areas are established.

According to the company, the Commission has authorized the following basic rates to be charged for a one party service (residential) after the free calling areas established:

Rates for residential service (based on one party service): Community	Present Rate	Authorized Rate

Industrial development projected by Inland Bank land study

A study of the availability of land for industrial use today showed the land area within the Pomona Valley sphere of influence leading all other areas of Los Angeles County.

The area, said a report made public by the Inland Bank in its Quarterly Economic Review, has over 30,000 acres zoned or planned for industrial use, thus placing the economy of the Pomona Valley region ahead of the Southwest area of Los Angeles, which has 27,472 acres zoned or planned for industry.

Industrial land is one of Southern California's scarcest commodities. The area outlined in the Review forms the primary employment base of Pomona Valley.

The study was made by Claremont economist Dr. Gerhard N. Rostvold and released by Inland Bank President Wilson H. Asdel.

The Bank review contained a special salute to Electro-Optical System Inc., which began operations with 600 employees in a 155,000 sq. ft. facility at Pomona last July and has a 1970 projection of 600,000 sq. ft. of plant and 3,500 employees here.

"The Pomona Valley," said the Rostvold report, "with over 22,000 acres of land in its vacant industrial land reserve, holds the prospect of ultimately becoming one of the largest industrial centers of Southern California."

The economist said his conclusions were based on an analysis of the recent Industrial Land Requirements study of Los Angeles County and the General Plan for the west end of San Bernardino County.

The Inland Bank review attributes three primary forces now at work in the Pomona Valley to the quickening of the industrial pace there during the next decade.

One is the development of the Pomona Valley freeway system. Second is the merger of Ontario and Los Angeles International Airport. Third is the increased pressure for geographic dispersal.

The East San Gabriel Valley (of which Pomona Valley is a part) contains 9,360 acres available for future industrial development. This represents more than one-third of the industrial land reserve remaining on the Coastal Plain area.

The City of Industry, and integral part of the primary employment base of Pomona Valley, leads all of the 76 cities of Los Angeles County, with 4,601 acres of vacant industrial land. The City of person of old and new firms away from the historical industrial heartland in the City of Los Angeles.

Of 1,879 industrial firms in manufacturing, wholesale, motor freight, communications, utility and research and development, 332 firms or one out of six plan to move to another location within the next several years, the County Planning Commission learned from survey questionnaires, which provided up-to-date information on expansion and location plans of the companies.

Of the firms planning a move, 68 per cent plan to remain in Los Angeles County and nine per cent to relocate in other areas of Southern California.

Over 60 per cent of the industrial firms who are planning to relocate facilities are doing so because land space at existing facilities is inadequate, and Pomona Valley the survey said, should participate in the current relocation plans of many of these.

The inventory phase of the industrial land survey, the Bank study reported, yielded data from which it is possible to intelligently project future industrial developments in the Pomona Valley.

Among the major findings were: Los Angeles County has a total of more than 120,000 acres zoned or planned for industrial use, of which 45,278 acres (38 per cent) are vacant or used for farming and may be considered the County's basic industrial land reserve.

Almost 36 per cent or 15,093 acres is located in north Los Angeles County and may be regarded as the long-range industrial reserve.

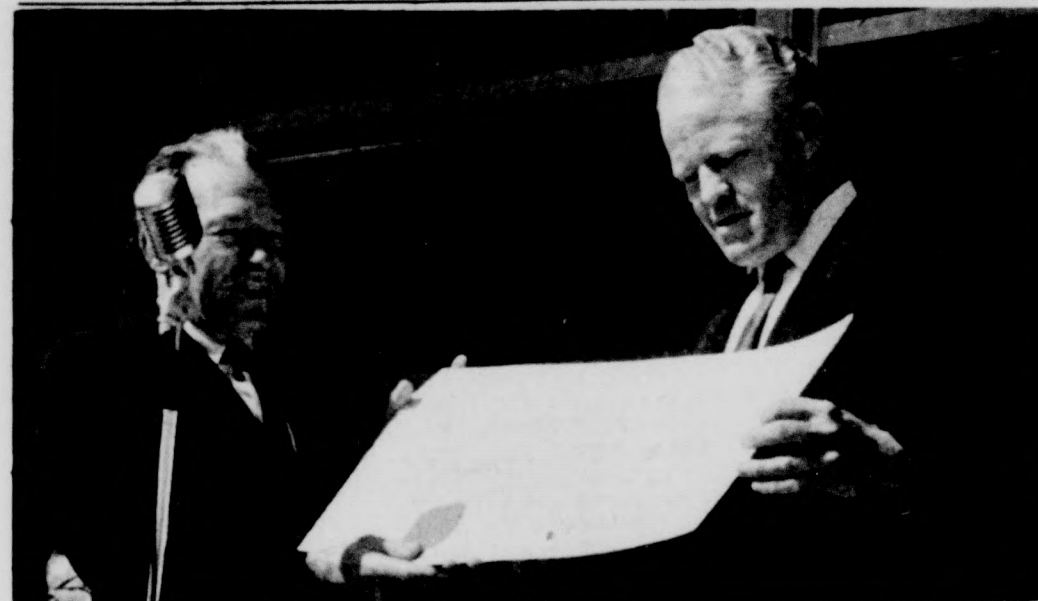

Within Coastal Los Angeles County, 27,800 acres are presently in the industrial land reserve. Three areas—East San Gabriel Valley, Southwest Los Angeles County and the San Fernando Valley—hold 46 per cent of the County's reserve, and over three-fourths of the Coastal Basin's reserve.

The East San Gabriel Valley (of which Pomona Valley is a part) contains 9,360 acres available for future industrial development. This represents more than one-third of the industrial land reserve remaining on the Coastal Plain area.

The City of Industry, and integral part of the primary employment base of Pomona Valley, leads all of the 76 cities of Los Angeles County, with 4,601 acres of vacant industrial land. The City of AMERICAN KIDS -- enjoying a great game of sandlot football were seen one beautiful sunny morning at one of our local elementary schools. They all looked so healthy, happy and intelligent it makes one wonder where along the line do fortunate kids get lost to the hippie cult, which odds say will happen one day.

NOW IT'S OFFICIAL -- at 12:01 today Los Angeles took over Ontario International Airport. LA Mayor Sam Yorty, left, presented Ontario Mayor Howard Snider with a symbolic check for $1,792,897.48 Monday to commemorate the change of management of the important regional facility. Present in the audience were many visiting dignitaries, including Mayors James Christensen of Upland and Ernie Rowley of Montclair and Supervisor Ruben Ayala.

SCE appoints new Ontario district superintendent

Robert S. Howe, Southern California Edison Company's Nevada district manager for the past 29 months, has been promoted to district superintendent of the electric utility's Ontario district. He replaces W.R. Bechtel, who was promoted to district superintendent of the Inglewood district.

Known in the Tonopah area as "Sam", Howe has been active in civic affairs, and most recently served as president of the Tonopah Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Tonopah Rotary Club.

He and his wife, Dorothy, Pomona ranks fifth with 1,155.8 vacant acres. Of cities with at least 1,000 acres of industrially zoned land, the City of Industry has most of its land (78 per cent) available for development; Burbank and Vernon have the least, around two per cent.

The Pomona Valley cities of Industry, Claremont, La Puente, La Verne, Pomona, San Dimas and Walnut have 6,682.2 acres of vacant industrial land. This represents 24 per cent of the Coastal Plain of Los Angeles County.

The Inland Bank Review concluded that the profile data on industrial land in L.A. County is even more meaningful when related to the recent pattern of industrial development and land absorption rates since 1960. Between 1960 and 1966, 10,300 acres of vacant land were converted to new industrial uses. Of 1,685 acres absorbed annually, the Southwest area, including El Segundo, Gardena, Hawthorne, Inglewood and Torrance, accounted for an annual conversion rate of 526 acres; East San Gabriel Valley was second with 286 acres.

Most of the conversion has been taking place away from the core area of the City of Los Angeles, with over 77 per cent occurring in areas more than 10 miles beyond the Los Angeles Civic center.

"The Pomona Valley is one of the areas in the direct path of the industrial dispersion forces measured by the Los Angeles County study," the review said.

A cook-in? why not? Nov. 6-10

Thanksgiving is just around the corner and so is Claremont Savings' November Cook-In.

The savings association is again presenting a free cooking school each weekday beginning Nov. 6 and continuing through Nov. 10.

Featured in the program are Mrs. Elsa-Karen Braden, home economist in Claremont for Southern California Edison Co., and Mike Roy, T.V. and radio's celebrated gourmet chef.

Mrs. Braden will demonstrate a complete Thanksgiving dinner menu. Each weekday at 10 a.m. beginning Nov. 6 in Claremont Savings' New England Room, she will demonstrate roast turkey, sour cream mashed potatoes, mushroom-pecan stuffing and molded orange salad. Her last appearance will be held on Nov. 9 at 10 a.m.

Then Mike Roy takes over with a cooking school on Friday (Nov. 10) at the Village Theatre, 230 W. Bonita Ave. in Claremont. He'll cover recipes ranging from a simple Top O' The Mark sandwich to Breast of Turkey Marco Polo, a Hawaiian delight for lunch, and he'll top it off by making meringues look simple. Mike welcomes any questions from the audience both during or after his show.

Everyone who attends will receive a free, colorful brochure of the recipes demonstrated, and have a chance to win valuable door prizes.

Alta Loma downs Gladstone

Alta Loma High continues to roll along with victory after victory keeping the hopes alive for an undefeated season as the Braves all but demolished the Gladiators of Gladstone High, 41-6, last Friday.

However, though the score looks good on paper the Braves were prone to some sloppy play throughout the game. Four fumbles were committed by the Alta Loma offensive backfield with three by quarterback Rocky Long. Fortunately all four muscled were recovered by the Braves.

Another problem which may have an effect in future contests was the poor blocking provided by the line, especially after installation of the Alta Loma reserve unit after the first half.

The Braves scored two touchdowns within the first two minutes of the game without the aid of a play from scrimmage. Jeff King took the opening kickoff and scampered 88 yards for the first score. After returning the ball to Gladstone the Braves' Tom Fowlkes picked a Gladiator pass out of the air and raced 50 yards for the second tally.

King again was the star for Alta Loma in the first period as a third TD was added to the Braves' total as the fleet back took a swing pass from Long threading his way through the visitors defense for a 33 yard score. The successful conversion by place kicker Terry Carlson put the Braves ahead by 20-0.

The first half was completed before the home squad registered its fourth 6-point of the night. Climaxing a 62-yard drive Steve Williams bulled his way over the goal line from five yards out. Again the placement for the extra point by Carlson was true and the Braves entered the locker room at halftime with a comfortable 27-0 edge.

At the end of the third period Alta Loma was again

Upland wins a homecoming game

Upland High finally came through with a homecoming victory (the stands went wild) defeating cellar dweller Garey High 19 to 6 last Friday. The win kept the Highlanders riding high in the San Antonio League with an identical 4-0 mark as Pomona High.

The Highlanders tallied first in the first quarter on a 92-yard drive. Steve Quinn provided the scoring punch with a 42-yard reverse run to pay dirt. Craig Kogut ran into difficulty on the attempt for the PAT when Gordon Campbell fumbled the snap from center. By the time the kick was airborne the Vikings David Romo came through to block its forward progress.

In the second quarter the home team received a break from the defensive unit when linebacker Ray Bell managed to get a hand on an attempted Garey punt giving Upland the ball on the visitors' 35 yard line.

With time running out in the half Jim Cooper on an option play tossed a 26 yard touchdown pass to 6'5" Dale Magruder. The amazing thing about the play was that Magruder caught the ball in the prone position on the end zone turf after a defensive back for Garey managed to tip the pigskin prior to the Upland end's catch. It wasn't until the middle of the fourth period before the Highlanders succeeded in scoring their final touchdown. In 17 plays covering 80 yards Cooper completed the march by sweeping around left end for six yards and the score. Running into the same problem which faced him before, a bobbled snap from center, Kogut decided to run for the PAT instead and was stopped before he could taste the end zone turf.

An alert Bob Boyd of Garey averted a shutout by Upland when he intercepted a Paul Katona pass, racing untouched on a 55 yard jaunt into the end zone.

Hawks, Chargers win

Upland Chargers downed Fontana Elks 26-7.

Midway in the first quarter the Chargers took over the ball on the Elks 23-yard line. David Carter ran for 15 yards, then Rocky Chapman ran it over for the TD. PAT by David Carter. The Elks were unable to move the ball and their kick went out on their 33 yard line -- David Carter ran for 5 yards, two passes incomplete, then Rocky Chapman ran 28 yards for another TD but PAT was no good.

The second quarter was scoreless with the ball going back and forth, both teams penetrating deep into the opposing territory.

After the half-time period the Fontana Elks started a determined drive from their 10 yard line to the Chargers 26 yard line before being stopped. Rocky Chapman ran for 28 yards, David Carter for 4 yards, a pass to Carter good to the 9 yard line with 21 seconds to go in the third quarter. Chapman ran it over for another TD but again the PAT failed.

Start of the fourth quarter saw the Elks fumble;

Chargers recovered on the Elks' 38 yard line; David Carter ran for 15 yards. A fumble by the Chargers was recovered by the Elks on their 24 yard line. With fourth down and 6 yards to go on their 29 yard line, the Elks passed and ran for their only TD which covered 56 yards. PAT good.

After the kick Carter and Chapman alternated carrying the ball to the Elks' 15, where Chapman ran it over for the TD, but was called back on a holding penalty. With the ball on the Elks' 25 Chapman again ran for 11 yards with two minutes to go. Carter ran it over for 14 yards, and a TD. PAT by Danny Carroll.

With only 58 seconds to play, the Elks with a good pass on the Chargers' nine. Then they fumbled and the Chargers recovered. The game ended when the Chargers' pass was intercepted on their 25 yard line.

Coach Dave Zuccolotto and assistant coach Jim Taylor are very proud of the boys and their team spirit and effort. They impress on the boys teamwork and sportsmanship and that it takes ALL boys to win a game. All indications say they are right. The Chargers are unbeaten for the season with six wins.

Next Sunday the Upland Chargers will again travel to Fontana to meet the Fontana Wolves.

HAWKS

The Upland Hawks enjoyed another victory at Alta Loma by overpowering the Bloomington Grizzlies 34 to 13.

The second quarter saw the Hawks, captained by Chuck Kuhn and Mark Rader, beat the Grizzlies to the scoreboard when Gary Ware broke the ice with a 62-yard run for a TD with Neal Boring bringing in the PAT. Next Raul Abrego made paydirt after a 20-yard run. Ralph Valadez made the extra point.

Bloomington's Delbert Morris intercepted an Upland pass and made his way 40 yds. for the Grizzlies' first score. The extra point attempt was successful.

The Hawks hit again before the half was over when Raul Abrego took a short pass and covered 80 yards and a TD. Bob Fuentes ran over for the PAT.

The third quarter saw both teams score again. First Abrego ran in from 54 yards out, the extra point being run over by Ralph Valadez. Then on a pass play the Grizzlies made their final six points.

The Hawks put the lid on the game in the fourth quarter after an interception by Abrego gave them possession of the ball on the Grizzlies' 16-yard line. Bob Fuentes ran the final distance for Upland to complete the scoring.

Head coach Chuck Harness credited the strong defensive performance turned in by his boys for holding the Grizzlies to practically no yardage gained on the ground. He singled out Mike Jacobac, Al Trudeau, Denny George and Ronald Burns for their standout efforts.

The Hawks will meet the Pomona Bruins at Pomona next Sunday, Nov. 5.

Rainbows planted

More than a ton of catchable-size rainbow trout were stocked in the Colorado River near Needles on Oct. 23 by the Department of Fish and Game.

The planting site was just below Topock Bridge. The 12,420 trout, weighing a total of 2,700 pounds, were from the DFG's Mojave River Hatchery near Victorville.

Other Southland waters being restocked with catchable-size rainbow trout this week by the DFG are: Los Angeles County - Bouquet Canyon Creek, Riverside County - Fulmor Lake, Hemet Lake, San Bernardino County - Arrowhead Lake, Green Valley Lake, Gregory Lake, Lytle Creek (Middle Fork, North Fork), Santa Ana River. Ventura County - Piru Lake.

The winter bag and possession limit of five trout goes into effect today, Wednesday, Nov. 1, in most of Southern California, the Department of Fish and Game reminded anglers.

The summer portion of the Southland's all-year trout season, when 10 may be taken in most waters, ends Tuesday Oct. 31.

Exceptions are Orange and San Diego Counties where the winter limit of five trout went into effect Sept. 11: Puddingstone Reservoir and Lake Cachuma which have an all-year limit of five trout; and the Colorado River-Salton Sea Area which has an all-year limit of 10 trout.

The only Inyo-Mono waters open to trout fishing after Oct. 31 are Topaz Lake, the Owens River below Pleasant Valley Dam, and the Owens River between Crowley Lake Dam and Power Plant No. 1. The man-made spawning channel adjacent to the Owens River about a mile below Pleasant Valley Dam is closed to all fishing.

Opera time is here

The West End Opera Association will present Giacomo Puccini's opera "Tosca" at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 4 in the Gardner W. Spring Auditorium, under the direction of Stefan Petroff.

Leading characters in the three act drama are played and sung by the following: Tosca, Caroline Grossi; Mario, Baldo Del Ponte; Angelo Angelotti, Robert Harper; Scarpia, Donald Combs; Scarpia, Charles Gonzales; Spoletta, Gerold Johnson; Shepherd boy, Betty Jackson; Scarpione, Mike Gallo; and jailer, Leon Kern.

Twenty children and 15 adults are in the chorus. Soprano, Carolyn Grossi, was born in Ontario and attended schools in that city. She began the study of music at an early age with the violin under the direction of Mnamchir Miropolisky.

While attending Chaffey High School and Junior College, she was concert mistress of the Chaffey Symphony Orchestra for four years under the direction of Ralph Streano.

She has studied voice in Los Angeles and Milano, Italy. She has appeared as soloist with the Los Angeles Music Festival under the direction of Franz Waxman. Miss Grossi has sung with the San Bernardino Symphony, Whittier Symphony Orchestra, and the Orange County Symphony.

She won first place in the last Atwater Kent auditions. Tenor, Baldo Del Ponte was born in America but grew up in Italy. His singing career began in Los Angeles where he studied and appeared with the University of Southern California orchestra. He also appeared with the American and Riverside Opera Companies.

He will be remembered in this area for his appearance with the West End Opera at the California Institution for Men in their performance of "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Del Ponte has appeared with great success in the Los Angeles Opera's production, "Il Traviatore". He has also sung with the Edmonton Opera Association, the Honolulu Opera Festival and has been acclaimed for his tremendous vocal resources.

Conductor
Stefan Petroff, director and conductor of the West End Opera Association, has achieved a measure of vocal success in his own right. A lyric baritone, he has sung operatic and musical comedy selections for many West End organizations. As a child, Stefan appeared in programs with his father, the late Ivan Petroff, a world-famous baritone.

High points in Stefan's musical career included singing engagements in New York, Washington, D.C., Los Angeles, Chicago and Seattle.

A European concert tour in 1962 accorded him considerable acclaim, especially in Italy. During his tour of duty with the armed forces, he frequently entertained the troops. Notable performances were given aboard the U. S. S. "United States" and the "Constitution".

It is because of Stefan's talent and foresight that the West End Opera Association came into being in May, 1965. His aim is the training of young people in this area who want to make a career in the theater -- especially in the musical theater.

Casa Colina launches annual campaign appeal

Casa Colina Rehabilitation Center recently completed the first of a three-part mailing in conjunction with the hospital's annual fund-raising appeal.

Since 1938 Casa Colina has been campaigning annually to raise the needed funds to sustain its charity program of rehabilitating the physically handicapped.

This year's campaign was launched last week by mailing letters to thousands of homes throughout Southern California. These letters inform the recipients about Casa Colina, and extend to all organizations, clubs and businesses an invitation to visit the Center -- to see for themselves what is the only free-standing rehabilitation center in Southern California.

The second, and major, portion of the 1967 appeal includes a greeting card and a three-minute recorded message. It tells the story of a three-year-old hemiplegic patient at Casa Colina. 50,000 of these recordings will be mailed in mid-November.

Since the appeal involves a case history, there will be a follow-up letter mailed in February of next year, to bring current the story of the little girl.

"So many people worked so hard, and gave so generously of their time and talents to make this campaign possible," said Terry O'Connor, the Center's development director.

Continued O'Connor, "The recording company and the printers have cooperated with us to the fullest extent, and have met every deadline. And", he added, "we'll never be able to properly thank the many volunteers who've spent so many hours working in our Campaign Room these past few weeks."

Casa Colina (in Spanish: "House on a Little Hill") began in Chino in 1938 as a convalescent home for crippled children. In 1950 it moved to its new home on Bonita Avenue in Pomona. It expanded its services to offer a comprehensive rehabilitation program for adults and children suffering from congenital defects, arthritis, rheumatic fever, Legg Perthes, spinal cord lesions, neuromuscular and orthopedic diseases, as well as the results of diving and vehicular accidents and strokes.

Any patient who, upon doctor's referral, and in the opinion of the hospital staff, can be improved significantly through its rehabilitation program, is admitted to Casa Colina. The hospital is proud of the fact that never in its 30-year history has a patient been refused admittance because of his inability to pay for this program.

In order to maintain this policy, the non-profit, community-sponsored hospital must appeal for funds annually. Casa Colina is a licensed hospital, fully staffed by doctors, nurses, physical and occupational therapists, speech therapists, audiologists, a psychologist, a social worker and administrative personnel.

In addition, the hospital operates a nursery school for tots afflicted with cerebral palsy and other related neuromotor disorders. It also offers a program of continuing education from Kindergarten through the 12th grade.

The Center relies heavily on its in-service volunteers for physical help; and it relies equally on the Southern California communities for financial aid to carry on its successful program of treating not the patient's disability, but rather, his handicap. He may always be disabled, but his handicap can be reduced--even eliminated.

The physically disabled person can live a productive and rewarding life.

Narrator
Noted opera critic William Aguilar will narrate the opera "Tosca", November 3 and 4 for the West End Opera at the Gardner Spring Auditorium.

Aguilar is a graduate of Harvard University and has been active in different phases of opera. He studied staging and lighting in Europe working with Wieland Wagner in Germany and has been with leading companies on the east and west coasts.

His talents also include writing of several articles for newspapers in San Francisco and as well as, opera publications.

Camera Club to see color slide essay
A photo essay entitled "Reproductive, Interpretive and Creative Color" will be presented at a meeting of the Euclid Avenue Camera Club Friday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chaffey High School chemistry room.

Originated by Jose Zakany, FPSA, of Mexico City, the show will be screened here through the courtesy of the Photographic Society of America and its recorded lectures program division headed by Elmer Miller, APSA, of Cucamonga.

Zakany, a former president of the Mexico Photographic Federation, and a star exhibitor of color slides, describes and illustrates the differences between literal, interpretive, and artistic pictures.

His taped show consists of 200 slides and lasts for one hour and fifteen minutes. Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting and there is no admission charge, according to Clarence Scott, of Upland, program chairman.

Writer's Club to hear Marge Gross
Marge Gross, staff writer for the Ontario Daily Report, will be guest speaker at the Monday, Nov. 20, 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Pomona Valley Writer's Club. The group will meet in the Ontario Public Library.

Mrs. Gross has had 15 years newspaper experience. Her talk will include "feature writing and stringers" as well as other aspects of newspaper writing. A question and answer session will follow her informal talk.

At the last meeting the group voted to combine its two annual writing contests into one to be held in the spring.

Edna Cash, contest chairman, displayed two short stories published recently. Anyone interested in writing is invited to attend meetings the third Monday of each month at the library.

Workshops are held regularly to help criticize manuscripts and assist members in locating possible markets.

For further information call Betty Simmons, president, at 987-3801.

Edison will bury more power lines

Expenditures by Southern California Edison Company for undergrounding power lines next year are expected to exceed $10 million, Jack K. Horton, the electric utility's president, announced. Of this amount, $6 1/2 million will be budgeted for 1968 for converting existing overhead lines to underground. An additional $4.3 million is expected to be spent for new construction -- installing certain new lines underground.

Commission's order toward beautifying the communities we serve," Horton said. "Our existing 10-year underground program was initiated in 1955," he noted. Edison's 10-year plan calls for spending $145.5 million through 1975 for undergrounding power facilities. Included are planned expenditures of $6 1/2 million annually for converting existing overhead lines and an additional amount, increasing by $1 1/2 million each year, for installation of new distribution lines underground.

To illustrate how the program accelerates in its impact, Horton said that such expenditures totaled $7.8 million in 1966, the first year of the schedule, but will increase to $21.3 million for the year 1975. "Of course, many power lines still will have to be constructed in the conventional way," the company's chief executive officer pointed out. "Even with the major sums to be spent for undergrounding next year and in the following years, the cost of converting our entire system would be astronomical -- in fact nearly equivalent to our total capital investment -- and obviously would take many years to accomplish."

Under the PUC's interim order, the $6 1/2 million budgeted for conversions of existing facilities will be allocated on the basis of electric customer density by cities and counties which enact underground ordinances, Horton explained. He noted that Edison's progress in the underground field includes not only the present program but also pioneering work the company performed several years ago in spearheading less-costly techniques for

Cal-Vet tax installments possible; deadline Dec. 1

Cal-Vet loan holders who apply to the State Department of Veterans Affairs to pay their property taxes this year will be given relief should repayment of their tax loan within six months prove too much of a burden. In 1962, for example, the company's introduction of pre-assembled cable in-duct helped cut costs to the point that, last year, more than 40% of the new homes and apartments built in the utility's service area were connected with underground electric service. This compares with only about 1% of new underground connections as recently as 1960, Horton said.

James E. Johnson, Director of Veterans Affairs, said "Those Cal-Vet loan holders who are unable to pay all the increases in their monthly loan installments for tax-repayment should contact the nearest District Office of the Division of Farm and Home Purchases before Dec. 1, 1967, so our people can work out a repayment plan within their means."

Farm tax relief hearing scheduled

Tax relief for farmers and owners of open space land, will be the subject of a meeting of a joint committee of the State Legislature which will hold a hearing in San Bernardino on Nov. 21. The committee will take testimony and discuss legislation to preserve farmlands and open space, it was announced jointly by Senator William E. Coombs (R-Rialto), and Assemblyman John P. Quimby (D-Rialto). The committee is charged with study of how Proposition 3, which garnered overwhelming support of California voters in 1966, can be implemented. The ballot measure gave the Legislature the authority to make regulations involving the property tax levy to discourage the encroachment of urban sprawl on land suitable for farming or outdoor recreation.

State Senator William E. Coombs and Assemblyman John P. Quimby, are both members of the joint committee, and their efforts led to the location of a hearing in San Bernardino. Coombs and Quimby authored bills in the last session of the Legislature on this subject, but their legislation was referred to the interim study committee. "This is a very important matter in our county," Quimby said. "People who have farmed this county for years -- find themselves being forced out of agriculture. They are forced out because they are asked to pay property taxes based on the land's value for subdivisions or as an industrial site, and not the value it can produce in raising grapes, citrus, or grain."

Heart Yule cards now available

The San Bernardino County Heart Association tries to look ahead. And it knows successful businessmen and other wise people plan in advance. For this reason, the local Heart Association is putting its 1967 Christmas cards on display at this time. The earlier showing this year is the result of a crush of orders during November and December last year. This is the fifth year of the heart chapter's Christmas card program, which becomes more popular each fall. The cards have a three-fold purpose. The giver extends greetings, his donation goes to fight heart disease and each card states "This card represents a donation to the San Bernardino County Heart Association," in addition to his name as the donor.

It's a heart-warming thought for those who receive them. The cards are especially popular with businessmen who send them to customers and employees, but they're just as appreciated when exchanged by individuals. The cards are available with matching envelopes, in multiples of 25. There is a choice of two designs, both with gold backgrounds. Brochures on the special greetings were mailed out to 6,000 individuals and businesses on Oct. 31 by the Heart Association. More than $8,000 has been donated for cards during the past five years. Mrs. George DeMarco and Mrs. George Schnarre are co-chairmen of the Christmas Card Service Program.

we care

what kind of coffeemaker do you use?

It really doesn't matter.

Any coffeemaker can give you a good cup of coffee, providing you use a fine fresh coffee that is ground exactly right for your coffeemaker.

We've always known that the correct grind is important to coffee flavor.

That's why, years ago, we developed Custom-Grinding. That's why we don't have just one or two grinds but seven different grinds... to fit any coffeemaker, including electric percolators, of course, (Ask for medium-fine grind for electrics).

Custom-Grinding means a little extra work for us and a little extra time for you.

(It takes 15 seconds to grind a pound).

But what a difference in flavor those few seconds make.

You know, there's only one reason we insist on selling custom-ground bean coffees... WE CARE.
